The brig Christina reports having spoken the schooner Miranda, hence, off Kent's Group on Thursday last, standing in for Port Albert; and on Sunday, at 3 p.m., passed a cutter off Cabo Island, supposed to be the Mary, hence, for Circular Head. Captain Saunders, on his return from Port Phillip to Port Fairy, has been successful in recovering the anchors and chains which he had parted from during the heavy gale there on the 26th April. The schooner Edward, from Port Fairy for Sydney on Sunday last.

The whaling schooner Edward, Jamieson, which sailed hence on the 19th April, has put into Port Stephens, in consequence of having lost one of her boats, and a crew of six men, during a heavy gale, which lasted from the 5th until the 8th instant, in lat. 32° S, long. 162° E. She has taken no oil, and spoken no vessels since leaving Sydney.

The schooner Ariel sailed from Melbourne for Circular Head and Sydney on the 7th instant.

The ship Wiggins, Perfit, from Calcutta, arrived at Melbourne, at the Cape of Good Hope on the 17th February, the chief officer being lost overboard in working in the ship. The ship, however, arrived at Melbourne on the 19th February, and on the same day, the ship Emperor of China, from Adelaide, bound for Swana and Fremantle.

The Mary Catherine was detained a number of days in the Downs from contrary winds, and from there has been one hundred and fifty days on the passage. She was compelled to touch at Kent's Group for two days for wood and water. No vessels connected with the colony have been spoken by her. The schooner, however, has been directed the publication, for general information, of the following extract from a report made by Lieutenant Yule, of Her Majesty's schooner Bramble, respecting a shoal not at present laid down in the charts of the coast off Tuggerah Lake, to the northward of Broken Bay, which has been transmitted to the Colonial Secretary by Captain Stanley, of her Majesty's ship Rattlesnake. Extract from Lieut. Yule's report to Captain Owen Stanley:—"The outer extremity of the shoal is on a line with Bird Island and Bangoranga Point. Tuggerah Lake, to the northward of Broken Bay, is about 1.35 nautical miles. At intervals between the breaking of the rollers, I succeeded in getting soundings 3 fathoms, rocky bottom. I observed continuous breakers on the point of the shoal, and from there to Point Tuggerah, in a north-west direction, sufficient to upset or swamp a small cutter. The shoal may be avoided by keeping outside the transit line mentioned, namely, Bird Island and Bangoranga Point. I observed breakers extending to a considerable distance from Point Bangoranga, which should warn the smaller vessels to keep well out of that point. O. S."

metal in some quantity, great or small; but they cannot be trusted as affording the least assurance of there being a paying mine below. Experience has shown that indications may improve, or may diminish and disappear. They may spread into fields of ore, or, as at the Burra, or become pinched up, and "thready," as at the Princess Royal; and until large quantities of ore can be got at, you can have no assurance that your mine will work you, rather than that you will work the mine. The value of undeveloped properties, therefore, as will be hereafter seen, must be purely imaginary; and if eleven Belubula shares, sold by auction, last Saturday, as we have been informed, at £4 10s. each, this price is no measure of the value of the mine; it is only the measure of the public infatuation.

At the close of our last article on this subject, we proposed shortly to notice some of the more important mineral properties of the South Australia; and in doing so we shall give little besides facts, and shall leave the conclusions to our readers. The Burra Burra and Princess Royal Mines are at opposite ends of a special survey of 20,000 acres. Many of our readers are aware that this property was purchased of Government in the year 1845 at the upset price of £1 an acre. At this time there that this was a Government question, and that the most solemn duty he did not know well as a private citizen to undertake, nor indeed with accuracy at the present moment—who would vote for Dr. Nicholson, or who would not. He had anticipated indeed these questions, and he thought that the Government would not vote for Dr. Nicholson; but he, however, he denied that this was a Government question, he must express his belief that it was a squabbling question, and he sincerely felt that the Government ought to let Sydney (Mr. Lowe) who must, by this time be aware that he was on the wrong side. Carried away by his zeal, that gentleman—the opponent of squabbling—had brought forward one of the leading members of the squatters' party to oppose Dr. Nicholson, whose opinions it was well known were decidedly in favour of the cause of which he professed to be the champion. The speaker had fallen from the honourable member for Cook and Westmoreland, it was unnecessary to detain the house by additional comments, inasmuch as the gentleman had said nothing more than reiterate the charges of other speakers; he might remark, however, that in saying that he proposed Dr. Nicholson as a form, he (Mr. S.) had simply meant that he felt confident that Dr. Nicholson's opinion was the right one, and that he felt certain that this confidence he held forth for their past experience of Dr. Nicholson's perfect fitness for the office of Speaker must carry its return by a large majority.

The question as to whether Dr. Nicholson should or should not be the Speaker having been put by the Clerk of the Council, a division was called for, of which the following was the result:

Majority in favour of Dr. Nicholson ... 11
The other members—the Colonial Treasurer and Mr. Darvall—paired off. The former of these gentlemen, it was understood, would have voted for Mr. Donaldson, and the latter for Dr. Nicholson.

DR. NICHOLSON having taken the chair as Speaker, returned thanks to the House for the honour which they had conferred upon him, and he expressed his regret that he could not be re-appointing him to the important and distinguished office which he had formerly filled. He had not sought that honour without due consideration as to the very important nature of the duties which it entailed; and he believed that he was enabled to conduct the business of the House to the satisfaction of the members generally. As to what had passed during the preceding debate, he should never feel any bitterness, more especially as he was conscious that he had formerly acted upon an honest conviction, which he considered to be his duty. He begged to assure them that he should always stand up for the honour, the liberty, and the privileges of the assembly so far as he possessed the power of doing so.

[It is believed that the above report of the remarks which fell from the Speaker elect is pretty accurate; but a great portion of what we saw and heard in the gallery is quite untrue.]

The members present having, at the request of the SPEAKER, handed in the requisite documents declaratory of their property qualifications, the SPEAKER proceeded to read the COLONIAL SECRETARY informed the House that His Excellency the Governor had named half-past 10 A.M., on Wednesday, as the hour at which he would be prepared to receive the gentleman who might be appointed Speaker.

MR. LOWE suggested that the Speaker ought, according to custom, to be congratulated upon his election by some member of the House.

THE COLONIAL SECRETARY, said that if no other member was prepared to congratulate the Speaker, he should have very great pleasure in performing that task. He most sincerely congratulated the Speaker, and he man who then occupied the chair upon his rejection to the office of Speaker by a large majority. He could assure that gentleman that his colleagues in the colony would regard the duties by himself (the Colonial Secretary) and those who acted with him; and at the same time he could not only assure the Speaker, but the members generally, that although he held his office in official relation to the Crown, he should ever be a zealous upholder of the dignity and privileges of that House, believing, as he did, that it was of the most vital importance to preserve them intact. Although the Speaker should possibly have been displayed during the preceding debate, he trusted that now the contest was over those feelings would have no farther existence, and that all parties would receive the cordial co-operation of those hon. members by whom his election had been opposed. It was of the utmost importance, indeed, to the proper conduct of business, and to the dignity of their proceedings, that the members should be respected and esteemed of the members; for it was only when thus fortified that his exertions for the maintenance of order and regularity could be effective. He would now move an adjournment of the House until ten o'clock, for the purpose of assembling in that chamber to attend the Speaker on his reception at half-past ten by His Excellency the Governor.

On motion for adjournment was then put, and carried.

Council adjourned at half-past four.

SUPREME COURT.—EQUITY.

TUESDAY.

BEFORE HIS HONOR THE PRINCIPAL JUDGE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE CONVEYANCE BY EDWARD SPANKE TO JOHN ORR, DECEASED.

MR. DONNELLY said that this was a petition filed under the act known as Lord Sugden's, for relief against the interference of trustees, &c. The petitioner in this instance was the agent of the executors of the deceased John Orr, who died in 1846, intestate as to the property situated in New South Wales, and mentioned in the petition sets forth the facts of the case in fee simple lands in the County of Durham, New South Wales, to John Orr, for securing the payment of the sum of £1800, subject to the interest of the established Church of England made in the repayment of the sum of £1800. That John Orr died intestate as to the property mentioned in the mortgage deed, leaving as his heir one William Adam Orr, now residing in Madras. That the petitioner had duly obtained in this colony letters of administration, with a copy of the will annexed of the said John Orr, whereas the petitioner has become entitled to the principal and interest now due on the security. The petition then prayed that the Court would order some one, on behalf of the said William Adam Orr, the trustee, to sell the legal estate now in dispute, and mortgaged property to the petitioner, subject to the learned counsel read the will of the late John Orr, to show that he had made no devise therein of any real estates. Extracts from this singular and curious instrument were read, the testator, it would appear, was a bachelor, and had resided for some time in India, and after giving certain specific legacies to his relations and friends, he will proceeds to Nineteenth century, and bequeaths the residue of his estate of Scotland, parish of St. Cuthbert, County of Kirkcaldy, for the time being, I give and bequeath for ever, the annual interest accruing from the said residuary fund, first, the interest to be divided equally among my children, and appropriated as follows: first, one part to be applied to the purchase of tea, sugar, meat, candles, fannel, and any other comforts per, and given by him to such poor and needy parishes as he may think fit; this residue to be made (if possible) at the season of Christmas next, and to be paid to be given as a donation to the tallest woman belonging to the parish, who may be married during the year. Third, another portion to be paid to the shortest woman belonging to the parish, who may be married during the year. Fourth, another portion to be given to the oldest woman belonging to the parish who may be married during the year. And last, another portion to be given as a donation to the youngest girl living in the parish who may be married during the year. These sums to be paid to the respective parties, or in the event of death, to the heirs of the decedent, by the clergyman, on the thirty-first day of December in each year. The clerk of the parish should ascertain the height and age of every woman married in his church, during the year, and distribute the several portions according to the amount; his decision in every case to be final.

HIS HONOR made the order as prayed.

IN RE ANGELO M'DONALD, AN INFANT.

MR. HOPE appeared, and this was a petition presented on behalf of the infant, who was appointed to him. It appeared that the infant was the lucky holder of the ticket in the late Bank lottery, which obtained the prize given by the Government. It may be remembered, that Angus M'Donald, father of the infant, bought certain tickets, and assigned one of them to the infant, which only six years of age, the infant had received delivered to him on behalf of the infant, but in collecting a sum of the cattle met with a premature death.

HIS HONOR directed the usual and necessary references to the Master to be made.

The Court then adjourned.

The Insolvent Court sat as usual to-day, at 11 o'clock.

COUNTY OF ST. VINCENT.—We understand that Mr. George Hill has resigned his seat for the county of St. Vincent. We trust the anti-transportationists in that district will be on the alert.

CITY COUNCIL.—The result of Alderman Fisher's motion to forward tenders for the supply of iron piping was omitted in our report of the City Council proceedings on Monday, as given in yesterday's issue. This motion in fact was carried, the amendment proposed by Mr. Wilshear not having been even seconded.

STREETING AT ST. MARY'S CATHEDRAL.—Bratton Doyle, whose respondent about the paragon from St. Mary's Cathedral was described in yesterday's Herald, was subsequently sentenced to one month's imprisonment as an idle and disorderly character, in virtue of the summary powers possessed by the magistracy for dealing with persons of this stamp.

BREACH OF THE HACKNEY CARRIAGE REGULATIONS.—Patrick Edwards, the driver of one of these vehicles of public accommodation was yesterday sentenced by the Police Bench to pay a fine of twenty shillings and costs for refusing to take a fare. He had agreed with the complainant to take him in a cab and to come back again for five shillings, but finding that he would be called upon to proceed further than he had originally supposed, he demanded double that sum.

APPOINTMENTS.—His Excellency the Governor has appointed Edward Ashber, Esq., of Kicksbrell, to be a magistrate of the territory and its dependencies; and James Simpson, Esq., of Melbourne, to be a magistrate of the city of Melbourne.

STRALING IN A DWELLING.—About two o'clock yesterday morning, the residence of Mr. Peppin, tailor, of Pitt-street, was entered by the back door, which had very recently been left unfastened, and a couple of shawls, together with some other property, valued in the whole at £3, were stolen.

CATCHED IN THE FACT.—On Monday evening, a man named John Edwards, whose well-known pilfering propensities have rendered him for some time past an object of great attention on the part of the police, was apprehended in the yard of Mr. A. F. Richards, a well-known and very active maker of up with a blanket, a pair of trousers, and a pair of drawers, which had been hanging on a line. As the property was found in his possession, Edwards did not think it worth his while to deny the charge, and at the time of his apprehension, or when brought before the sitting police magistrate, Mr. W. A. Miles, yesterday morning. He was therefore committed to take his trial at the Quarter Sessions for the offence.

A CONTENTED FARE.—A considerable time was occupied yesterday in adjudicating upon an information under the 50th section of the Hackney Carriage Regulations, against Mr. James Richards, for non-payment of it fare. The complainant in this case was the Inspector of Hackney Carriages, who applied at the instance of Mr. Richards. The latter stated, that about five months ago he engaged upon a party (Mr. R.'s) omnibus to convey a party to Rose Bay, for the sum of 16s., bargaining that the vehicle should wait for a certain time and in a certain place for the return of the party. These conditions were complied with, and as the party did not return, and the subsequent attempts of Mr. Richards to procure payment had been unavailing. This statement was confirmed by their testimony; but the defendant disputed the facts, and said that if payment was allowed he could show that the omnibus was not on the appointed spot at the time mentioned. It was however the opinion of Mr. Josephson, the presiding magistrate, that the case had been fully made out, and he accordingly directed the payment by defendant of the fare (16s.), of ten shillings additional to compensate Mr. Richards for his loss of time, and of the costs of the County. Mr. Josephson stated his intention of appealing, if possible, against the decision; but was informed that it was a final one, with reference to which no appeal was provided.

FIRELAYS, COWS, AND CATTLE MARKETS.—The following notice appears in yesterday's Government Gazette:—"Town Clerk's Office, Sydney, 10th May, 1849. Notice is hereby given, that at a meeting of the Council of the City of Sydney, holden on the 9th instant, Bernard McLaughlin was appointed Clerk of the Hay, Cows, and Cattle Markets, situate in Campbell-street, in the city of Sydney. JOHN RAE, Town Clerk."

CONDITIONAL PARDONS.—His Excellency the Governor has directed it to be notified, that Her Majesty has been most graciously pleased to authorize the issue of pardons to the undermentioned persons, on condition, on that they do not return to the country from which they were transported, during the remainder of their respective sentences. Pardons available everywhere, save in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, dated May 10, 1849: Thomas Fellows, Marquis of Anglesea; Henry Toffin, Bussaroff Merchants.

We are requested to direct notice to J. G. Cohen's sale, this day, at the Sydney, of a fine and valuable lot of tapestries, or Marguerite, the whole of which will be sold without reserve. The sale commences at eleven o'clock precisely.—(Continued next.)

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ALDERMAN FISHER.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald, Gentlemen.—In a paragraph of your paper, 15th May, we notice our friend Alderman Fisher, states that "Messrs. Tooth, after having applied for water, and having given a great deal of trouble to the Water Committee, had, at the eleven o'clock meeting, sent a letter withdrawing that application, on that account, as they said, of having now a sufficient supply from well." The authority our learned friend quoted for this assertion, is the following letter, almost verbally the same as that sent to the Committee, viz.:

Kent Brewery,
Sydney, May 7, 1849.

Sir,—In consequence of the expected early return of Mr. R. Tooth, I beg to withdraw our application for the supply of water to the Kent Brewery, which has been made now five weeks, and not yet attended to.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.,
SIMON LAKE.

To the Chairman of the Water Committee, Gentlemen.

How our worthy Chairman of the Committee could have put such a construction upon the above letter, is more than we can understand, there must be a very peculiar atmosphere in the Chambers of the Water Committee, to enable him to draw such an inference from a letter an infant could understand.

Our application to the Water Committee was made about the 20th of March last, and the paltry excuse received weekly as an answer, soon why no attention was paid to it, was, that sufficient members of the Board did not meet to enable them to carry the motion for the water to be granted to the Kent Brewery, and the other inhabitants of the city enjoyed this privilege. It is generally supposed Committees are appointed to arrange the business of other citizens, and enable them through their representatives, to obtain what they desire, and to arrange any public matters generally, but the Water Committee appear merely to meet at their own convenience and for their own ends.

Our eloquent friend also assured us he would do his utmost to enable us to obtain the water of his water; he has certainly done it most effectually, and appears to us to be the wolf in sheep's clothing.

We thank our truth-loving friend most cordially for his kind endeavours, and we hope he can now understand the meaning of our letter.

Hoping this should not intrude too much on your valuable columns,

We are, Gentlemen, yours, &c.,
For R. and E. Tooth.
